To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Steve Rodgers

It gives me great pleasure to write this letter for my friend, Steve Rodgers.

Steve and I have been friends and business associates for several years. In my estimation, having worked with more than 4,000,000 people in 45 countries, Steve is one of the most competent, thoughtful, insightful and decisive executives I have ever met.

Steve has an amazing capacity to analyze a situation, determine a course of action, and to get results quickly, efficiently and predictably.

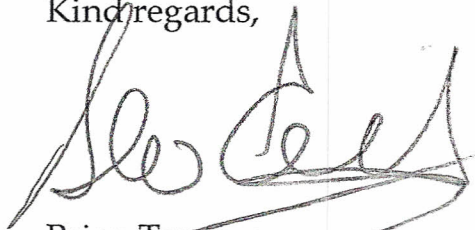

In addition, Steve is a fine man, possessed of great warmth and character. He does everything with the highest of integrity and thoughtfulness for the people involved.

Steve is also an entrepreneur, with a creative and innovative approach to business opportunities and problems. He has the ability to focus and concentrate on the most important areas where vital results are possible.

Steve is a good man and a good friend. I would recommend him highly as a top executive for any business, especially real estate.

Please call me directly if you would like me to expand on my comments above.

Kind regards,

Brian Tracy
